

Figure 9. A longitudinal section along the plunge of the Grum fold structure. The section shows the interaction of the Grum fold with the extensional Tie fault. The Firth showing may represent mobilized or detached mineralization related to Grum. Such an interpretation implies the Tie fault slip line is directly down the dip. This direction is confirmed by S and C bands in the mylonitic margin of the Batholith.

003424