Dear Rod:

A young Welshman named Gavin Muir of 2 Maclean Block, Edmonton, Alberta called in today and said he prospected in the Pelly area last year and staked 4 claims on some quartz veins containing chalcopyrite in the Glenlyon Area at Lat. 134° 35" Long. 62° 34" and elevation 3,000 feet. This is about 2 miles north of the Pelly. He said he would get in touch with us later on and ask for an examination of the find. He did not appear to think too highly of it at this time and thought he might do some drilling or blasting on it. The claims are recorded in his name in Whitehorse. If we have men in this area we could look at the showing. There is nothing urgent about it now of course.
