Dear Charlie:

This is a rather hasty report on a copper showing I am going in to examine near Aishihik Lake this afternoon. The samples enclosed is said to be representative of a zone a hundred feet wide and of considerable length. You will note it contains some molybdenite also. From the prospectors description it appears to be a contact metamorphic deposit that may have considerable size. The location as shown is about 8 miles off the Aishihik Road and fairly accessible. It is marked on the enclosed map near Hutshi Lake as the Ox Group.

The principal vendor and discover is one Erick Erickson, Whitehorse, a former prospector in the Flin Flon Area. He seems like a fairly reliable and honest old timer. He came to me to rent a Warsop and my curiosity got the better of me and I said I would lend him the machine for a week if we were given first examining opportunity. Hudson Bay Mining and Smelting are after him also but he has stood them off till I am through. They are drilling a copper show at present at Giltana Lake about 16 miles away.

Erickson claims to have 16 claims in his own name and the power of attorney for the balance of 48 claims. I have obtained a top asking price for the 48 claims as follows. $8,000 down and $5,000 per claim over a period of three years plus 200,000 shares in a three million share company. If the showing looks like a good one I will try to talk him down and obtain a month on it for $500 to sample.

Regarding the sample you had better have it assayed after inspection for copper, gold molybdenum, and silver. I am staking my examination on the copper content alone and the metamorphic characteristics. On second thoughts I will send it under separate cover air express. I am leaving tonight at 6 p.m. and will be back within two days and bring the vendor with me. I will phone you when I return if the thing looks important.

If it does perhaps you would be prepared to come up here and take a look. I am strapped for helpers on this one and may not be able to stake the vendors in as last year.
