Tintina Project,
Magundy Area

MESSAGE

Quote from report by Dr. F.A. 'Finn' Campbell to Atlas Explorations, November 10th, 1966.

" As I have indicated several times verbally I feel the altered zone adjacent to the granite in the S.W. corner of the Tay River Sheet deserves some detailed geophysical study. The gossan zone that appears most interesting in this belt is the one north of the Magundy, it is circled in red"

Finn's map showing the gossan location cannot be found, perhaps Ken has it in his files. Ted Quinlan notes that in 1966 the gossan area and the altered area had not been flown but that this area adjoined the Fruit Lake 1 mile aeromag sheet number 3396.

The area has now been flown 'Tay River Sheet' and mag data is available. I suggest that the 1 mile sheets should be studied in this area prior to Tintina Project detailed work and that Finn's gossan be located for follow-up and sampling.
